Second Half

I would like to take the time to say hello and say how excited I am for the second half of the school year. It is hard to leave my little one every morning, but I have enjoyed working with your children already! I hope everyone is looking forward to all of the exciting events to come. If you have any questions during the year, please feel to let me know.

Girl Who Owned a City

This week we started reading a new class book. The Girl Who Owned a City, has already intrigued the students. We have had some great conversations about the book, and they are very excited to continue to read.

Math

We have started the new semester with a little review of fractions and decimals and have made our way to adding and subtracting fractions. We will be having a quiz next week on adding and subtracting fractions and mixed numbers.

Please remind your child that their notebooks/binders should be coming home every day that they have Math homework. Their notebook will be a valuable tool to review that they learned that day.

Ancient Egypt

Our new Social Studies unit is on Ancient Egypt. We started the unit off by writing our names in hieroglyphics. The class really enjoyed being scribes and trying to write like Egyptians.
